

SUMÁRIO

- 04 Brazilian Journalism Research celebrates ten years and deepens its vocation
CLÁUDIA LAGO, SÔNIA VIRGÍNIA MOREIRA AND FÁBIO PEREIRA
- 06 How to read this edition
MARCIA BENETTI AND LAURA STORCH
- 12 What to do about journalism?
BARBIE ZELIZER
- 28 Reinterpreting the democratic roles of the media
JAMES CURRAN
- 54 Eclect continuum, distinct discipline or sub-domain of communication studies? Theoretical considerations and empirical findings on the disciplinarity, multidisciplinarity and transdisciplinarity of journalism studies
MARTIN LÖFFELHOLZ AND LIANE ROTHENBERGER
- 80 Socio-semiotics as a journalism research method
MIQUEL RODRIGO-ALSINA

- 96                    Journalism and change in the experience of time in western societies
CARLOS FRANCISCATO
- 124                   Journalism as a research field
MUNIZ SODRÉ
- 134                   Research: Understanding the Theory of Journalism (Colombian contributions)
RAUL HERNANDO OSÓRIO VARGAS
- 146                   Journalistic Identity and audience perceptions: Paradigm and models under construction in the African Great Lakes region
MARIE-SOLEIL FRÈRE
- 172                   Anthropological teachings: The possibility of apprehension of the “Other” in Journalism
CLÁUDIA LAGO
- 188                   Journalism and the culture of othering
STUART ALLAN
- 204                   Representation of differences in Brazilian journalistic discourse
FERNANDO RESENDE

224 Gatekeeping, gatewatching, real-time feedback: New challenges for Journalism

AXEL BRUNS

238 “Citizen journalism” and the myth of redemptive technology

SYLVIA MORETZSOHN